1951

F

FAR EASTERN DEPARTMENT

JAPAN

FJ 1022/75

145

FROM

Sir. O. Franks.
Washington

No. 449

Dated 13th February 1951.

Received in Registry— 14th February 1951.

Japanese Peace Treaty: Difficulty in who shall represent China in these negotiations as between U.S. Government & some of the other ~~principal~~ parties principal.

Refers to Mr Johnston's letter of 8th Feb to Mr Graves (FJ 1022/44G)

Rptd Tokyo, Singapore.

REFERENCES

[illegible] 6.

MINUTES

This has been copied to the C.R.O. only.

R.H. Mackelvie
15/2

See |81.

C.H.S.
21. ii

(Print)

(How disposed of)

8) CRO. Tell 15

(Action completed)

S 20/2

(Index)

KMP.
20/6/51

39318

1951

F

FAR EASTERN DEPARTMENT

JAPAN

F J 1022/75

145

FROM

Sir O. Franks.
Washington

No. 449

Dated 13th February 1951.

Received in Registry— 14th February 1951.

Japanese Peace Treaty: Difficulty in who shall represent China in these negotiations as between U.S. Government & some of the other ~~principal~~ parties principal.

Refers to Mr Johnston letter of 8th Feb to Mr Graves (FJ 1022/44G)

Rptd Tokyo, Singapore.

REFERENCES

MINUTES

This has been copied to the C.R.O. only.

15/2

See /81.

C.H.S.
21.ii

(Print)

(How disposed of)

8) C.R.O. 15

(Action completed)

20/2

(Index)

KMP
20/6/51

39318

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE
Reference:- FO 371/92591
COPYRIGHT - NOT TO BE REPRODUCED PHOTOGRAPHICALLY WITHOUT PERMISSION
1 2 3 4 5 6

FJ1022/75 F

[This telegram is of particular secrecy and should be retained by the authorised recipient and not passed on]

Cypher/OTP FOREIGN OFFICE DISTRIBUTION

FROM WASHINGTON TO FOREIGN OFFICE 146

Sir O. Franks
No. 419 D: 7.29 p.m. 13th February, 1951.
13th February, 1951. R: 3.56 a.m. 14th February, 1951.

SECRET

Addressed to Foreign Office telegram No. 419 of 13th February, 1951.
Repeated for information to Tokyo and Singapore.

Johnston's letter F.J.1022 of February 8th to Graves.

Japanese Peace Treaty.

There is no doubt that the question of who shall represent China in these negotiations will be a difficult one as between United States Government and some of the other parties principal. We agree that we should go on record with the Americans in favour of Chinese Communists being invited to participate but we do not think that there is any chance of United States agreement to such a course. There is the likelihood however that the Americans will press for inclusion of Nationalist Chinese negotiators. Outcome will therefore probably be that "China" will be excluded from the negotiations contemplated.

2. There have been indications here that State Department favours conclusion of Bilateral Agreements (not necessarily identical) signed if possible simultaneously. Americans are almost certain to encourage in these circumstances the making of an agreement between the Japanese and Chinese Nationalists which as you point out would make a similar arrangement between Japan and Chinese Communists impossible.

3. We therefore prefer a multilateral treaty with an accession clause to allow of China (and probably Russia) joining later. Provided we make it clear at the time of negotiations that the participation of all the parties principal is desired it should not be impossible to find a formula for the suspensory provision. There does not seem to be any way of preventing a sovereign Japan from /negotiating a......

FJ1022/75 F

[This telegram is of particular secrecy and should be retained by the authorised recipient and not passed on]

Cypher/OTP FOREIGN OFFICE DISTRIBUTION

FROM WASHINGTON TO FOREIGN OFFICE 146

Sir O. Franks
No. 119
13th February, 1951.

D: 7.29 p.m. 13th February, 1951.
R: 3.56 a.m. 14th February, 1951.

SECRET

Addressed to Foreign Office telegram No. 119 of 13th February, 1951.
Repeated for information to Tokyo and Singapore.

Johnston's letter F.J.1022 of February 8th to Graves.

Japanese Peace Treaty.

There is no doubt that the question of who shall represent China in these negotiations will be a difficult one as between United States Government and some of the other parties principal. We agree that we should go on record with the Americans in favour of Chinese Communists being invited to participate but we do not think that there is any chance of United States agreement to such a course. There is the likelihood however that the Americans will press for inclusion of Nationalist Chinese negotiators. Outcome will therefore probably be that "China" will be excluded from the negotiations contemplated.

2. There have been indications here that State Department favours conclusion of Bilateral Agreements (not necessarily identical) signed if possible simultaneously. Americans are almost certain to encourage in these circumstances the making of an agreement between the Japanese and Chinese Nationalists which as you point out would make a similar arrangement between Japan and Chinese Communists impossible.

3. We therefore prefer a multilateral treaty with an accession clause to allow of China (and probably Russia) joining later. Provided we make it clear at the time of negotiations that the participation of all the parties principal is desired it should not be impossible to find a formula for the suspensory provision. There does not seem to be any way of prohibiting a sovereign Japan from /negotiating a......

Reference:- FO 371/92531
PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE
COPYRIGHT - NOT TO BE REPRODUCED PHOTOGRAPHICALLY WITHOUT PERMISSION

negotiating a separate pact with "China" but since the traditional pattern of her economy is linked to continental China it does not follow that she will exclude herself completely from the mainland by making a rigid and lasting agreement with the Nationalists. We think the risks mentioned in paragraph 7 of the letter under reference will have to be accepted but we also consider that they need not be exaggerated.

4. Formosa. We should like to see a renunciation of sovereignty by Japan coupled with a statement in the treaty that the disposition of the territory of China should be determined after due consideration of the problem by a competent international body. This would not imply acceptance of the theory that the Nationalists are in effective control of Formosa nor would it constitute a disavowal of the Cairo Declaration. Whether we could get the Americans and others to agree to such a statement is another matter. The uncomfortable fact is that until we can persuade the United States Government to jettison Chiang the Far Eastern policies of our Governments will be bedevilled by this Formosan issue.

Please repeat appropriately for Dening.

Foreign Office please pass to Tokyo and Singapore as my telegrams Nos. 14 and 12.

[Repeated to Tokyo and Singapore].

ddd

SECRET

Washington telegram No. 119 to Foreign Office

negotiating a separate pact with "China" but since the traditional pattern of her economy is linked to continental China it does not follow that she will exclude herself completely from the mainland by making a rigid and lasting agreement with the Nationalists. We think the risks mentioned in paragraph 7 of the letter under reference will have to be accepted but we also consider that they need not be exaggerated.

4. Formosa. We should like to see a renunciation of sovereignty by Japan coupled with a statement in the treaty that the disposition of the territory of China should be determined after due consideration of the problem by a competent international body. This would not imply acceptance of the theory that the Nationalists are in effective control of Formosa nor would it constitute a disavowal of the Cairo Declaration. Whether we could get the Americans and others to agree to such a statement is another matter. The uncomfortable fact is that until we can persuade the United States Government to jettison Chiang the Far Eastern policies of our Governments will be bedevilled by this Formosan issue.

Please repeat appropriately for Deming.

Foreign Office please pass to Tokyo and Singapore as my telegrams Nos. 11 and 12.

[Repeated to Tokyo and Singapore].

AAA

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE
FO 371/92531
Reference:-
COPYRIGHT - NOT TO BE REPRODUCED PHOTOGRAPHICALLY WITHOUT PERMISSION