136 Copy. October 26th.

My dear Mr Pitman,

Mr Wade has been Mr. Okubo's Hotel yesterday afternoon and has required him to give more time to Chinese Government though Mr Okubo did not answer at once but after he has been thinking he had made up his mind and went to British legation very late last night and gave Chinese Government time until 4 o'clock P.M. D'Christ the Chinese Government will give way everything by this time, but they will not pay three millions.

Please let General LeGendre know all about it

Yours truly

(Signed) K. Fukuwara

I shall come down to Tientsin sometime to-morrow.

No 13. Tientsin, October, 30th, 1874.

Your Excellency,

As stated in my no 12 I left Peking on the 25th instant at 2 P.M. and reached Yung chow at 8 P.M. Yesterday afternoon learned that, during the evening of the same day, conferences were held between Mr Okubo and Mr Wade which led to a reopening of the negociations. Suspecting that this might be the case, I concluded to delay my departure from Yung chow until the next day at 11 o'cl and I requested Mr Pitman, who accompanied me, to write to Mr Fukuwara and ascertain what the state of affair was. My Courier returned with a verbal message that Mr Okubo was just about starting for Yung-chow, and would be there during the afternoon - On hearing this I left Yung chow rather disappointed.

Great was my surprise, as Your Excellency may imagine, when, the day before yesterday, on my arrival here, Mr Pitman communicated to me a note from Mr Fukuwara Copy of which I enclose, and yesterday

国立公文書館 アジア歴史資料センター
Japan Center for Asian Historical Records
http://www.jacar.go.jp

another message was received, copy of which I also enclose. I have decided to wait in Britain for Mr Fukuzawa before deciding as to my future movements.

I have this instant (12 o.c. A.M.) received reliable information from Peking, to the effect that a final answer was to be given Mr Okuba on the 28th or 29th instant.

I was rather annoyed to find that all my despatches and private letters, forwarded some time ago from Peking by Japanese officers had not been mailed, and both the Government and my friends, (as you may see from a note herewith enclosed, from the Russian Consul General, to whom I had written from Peking) have thus been left for six weeks without any tidings from me. I will forward this voluminous correspondence to your Excellency by the next steamer, and will also write further to your Excellency should I hear from Peking before that time.

Last night I and drafted a Despatch to Mr Okuba, copy of which I beg to enclose.

I have the honor to be,
Your Excellency's
Most obedient humble Servant
Chas. W. Aspenwall

To Excellency
Okuma Shigenobu,
Minister of Colonization
&c &c &c

国立公文書館 アジア歴史資料センター
Japan Center for Asian Historical Records
https://www.jacar.go.jp

Copy

Tientsin, October 29th 1864.

Your Excellency,

Suspecting that the Chinese had made an attempt to renew the negociations after I left Peking, I concluded to delay my departure for Tung Chow for eighteen hours; and on my arrival here at eight o'clock in the evening I sent a message to Mr. Parkes by a special courier, begging information as to what had taken place. The Courier returned the following morning at eleven o'clock with a verbal message from Mr. Parkes connected with the mission that you were about leaving Peking and that you would be in Tungchow some time during the afternoon.

国立公文書館 アジア歴史資料センター
Japan Center for Asian Historical Records
https://www.jacar.go.jp

Under the circumstances, I determined to proceed to Tientsin without delay. But on my arrival there I was made acquainted with the contents of a note from Mr. Futtwara to Mr. Pitman, copy of which they to enclose, whereby I was informed of what had transpired at Peking during the afternoon of the 25th instant.

Not knowing whether you wish me to return to Peking I have concluded to remain here until I can obtain further details from Mr. Futtwara who, I learn from Mr. Pitman, is expected to arrive here tomorrow night. Whatever decision Your Excellency may come to regarding the amount of indemnity demanded, I trust that you will not lose sight of the importance of obtaining amends from China for the foul treatment of the Aborigines, who from the beginning have espoused the cause of Japan in Formosa. It is the hope that hereafter they might live under the protection and guidance, and that if they must give up the idea of ever seeing their hope realized it will be remembered that the majority of them are not savages; that they never have given indisputable evidence of Chinese had dealt with them in the same spirit of justice that animated the Dutch while they were ruling in Formosa; that they deserve the sympathies of the civilized world, and that they will never trust their destinies to China whose very name they abhor and whom past experience has taught them to distrust. This has been fully explained in my pamphlet "Is Aboriginal Formosa a part of the Chinese Empire?", pages 14 to 20.

In an article published in the Japan Mail, a paper that has always

国立公文書館 アジア歴史資料センター
Japan Center for Asian Historical Records
https://www.jacar.go.jp

been most hostile to me, this despatch is thoroughly reviewed. The writer, however, neglects to consider the question of the impossibility for China to establish her authority over the aborigines. But Your Excellency will, I am sure, realize the necessity for Japan to consider the bearing of this subject upon the negotiations now going on; and in this I am satisfied that the Govt. will confidently call upon the diplomatic body for support. Whether some combination similar to those sketched in the special memo. handed you by Mr. Brissenden and myself in Shanghai on the 21st of August last, will be acceptable to China, or whether she will prefer that the civilizing task shall be entrusted to some foreign commission, one member of which would be a Japanese, operating like the foreign customs service in China under a special convention entered into between herself and foreign powers, remains to be ascertained. But it is certain that, unless something of the sort is done, matters will never be set right in Formosa, and causes of complaint which will lead to intervention by foreign powers similar to that which has lately been resorted to by Japan will again occur.

The American minister left Chinkiang for Peking a few days ago in company with Mr. Forbes, Chairman of the Court of Directors of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, whose object I am assured, it is to treat the negotiations for a loan to China. Mr. Paterson, the Manager of the Chartered Banking Corporation, is also expected by next steamer, having the same object in view.

To ensure the prompt delivery of this despatch and Your Excellency's

国立公文書館 アジア歴史資料センター
Japan Center for Asian Historical Records
https://www.jacar.go.jp

11th
reply, I have arranged with the Russian Consul General not to pay his couriers, whom he has kindly lent to me, until after his return here.

I have the honor to be,
Sir Excellency's
Most Obedient, humble servant.
Fred'k Chas. Schenck

His Excellency
Okubo Toshimichi
H.I.J.M's Vice Commissioner,
&c &c &c

国立公文書館 アジア歴史資料センター
Japan Center for Asian Historical Records
https://www.jacar.go.jp