That flag should be shown when the Savages would do their utmost to render assistance. The Consul presented a flag made of red camlet of the proper form to the acting Vice-Roy and requested his Excellency to address the Consuls of all nationalities in order that this rule may be publicly known. His Excellency handed over this flag to the Board of Trade and directed them to address the various Consuls requesting them to make this regulation known to foreign Merchants.

The Chief of the Footien and Canton civilized Savages obtained a guarantee from the Savage Chief Tok-e-Tok to the effect that the latter having come to a friendly understanding with the U.S. Consul, of which this flag was a proof, stating that hereafter if any foreign Merchant vessel should be in distress, near that place, the Savages would recognize that flag and render any assistance in their power. They will not in future dare to wantonly take away life, if they do the Chinese authorities will send an armed force to visit the place and assisted by the Chief of the Civilized Savages, will seize the murderers and hand them over for punishment. But if foreigners from Merchant vessels, having no business (not being from a vessel in distress) land at that spot and cause trouble, and the Savages kill or ill treat them, the before mentioned Chiefs will not be held responsible for the consequences.

The Consul agreed therefore with Tok-e-Tok that the flag should have reference only to merchant vessels in distress. If other foreigners visit the spot, they can not make use of that flag as a protection against injury. The various consuls are therefore requested to make this distinctly understood by foreign Merchants so that hereafter there may not be trouble. The acting Vice-Roy and the Governor request the board of trade immediately to write dispatches to, and on the day of the receipt of this Dispatch, to appoint a deputy to visit the various foreign Consuls and explain the above, and to request foreign his Excellency has handed over to us, we have addrefsed

the various foreign Consuls requesting them to make #

Upon receipt of the joint Dispatch above quoted of his

Merchants, the views of their Excellencies on this subject, that the may observe the rule not to visit territory in poffeffion of the Savages at Formosa.

Their villages in Formosa being very numerous and Tok-e-Tok having rule over only Eighteen, it is of the merchants not to visit places occupied by Savages.

The Settlements of the Savages in Formosa are very numerous. At Khei-Tsai-Lüh, there are Eighteen # villages ruled by Took-e-Tok, but there are also others not under his jurisdiction. It is therefore of the utmost # importance that foreign Merchants should not visit any of the places outside these eighteen Villages. The Board of # Trade should at once addrefs the civil and military autho=

The Savages at Loong-Kiaw having come to this arrange=
