1951

F

FAR EASTERN DEPARTMENT

JAPAN

F J1022/619H

FROM F.O. Minute

Mr. C.H. JOHNSTON.

No.

Dated 16/6/51.

Received in Registry— 22/6/51.

J.P.T. – Proposed announcement on China and Formosa.

REFERENCES

[FJ1022/566
FJ1022/600]

MINUTES

A) D. Hunt, 10, Downing St., 18/6/51.
(INITIALS INSIDE)

(Print)

(How disposed of)

18/6/51.
Dft D.H.F. Rickett, 10, Downing St.,

(Action completed)

25/6.

(Index)

KMP.
3/8/51

39451

89

1951

F

FAR EASTERN DEPARTMENT

JAPAN

FJ1022/619H

FROM F.O. Minute

Mr. C.H. JOHNSTON.

No.

Dated 16/6/51.

Received in Registry— 22/6/51.

J.P.T. – Proposed announcement on China and Formosa.

REFERENCES

[FJ1022/566
FJ1022/600]

MINUTES

A) D. Hunt, 10, Downing St., 18/6/51.
(INITIALS INSIDE)

(Print)

(How disposed of)

Dft D.H.F. RICKETTS; 10, DOWNING ST., 18/6/51.

(Action completed) 25/6.

(Index) KMP. 3/8/51

39451

FJ1022/619 A

SECRET.

JAPANESE PEACE TREATY: PROPOSED ANNOUNCEMENT ON CHINA AND FORMOSA.

At their meeting on the 11th June, the Cabinet approved the draft for an agreed Anglo-American announcement which is attached as Draft A.

2. In subsequent discussion, Mr. Dulles suggested certain minor amendments to this draft, and further changes have been proposed by him since he got back (Washington telegram No. 1860, attached). The draft announcement incorporating these proposed changes is attached as Draft B.

FJ1022/566

3. The only difference in substance between the two drafts is right at the end, where ours says that the future of Formosa is still to be discussed in the light of the Charter of the United Nations, while the American draft leaves this point out.

4. It was proposed in discussion with Mr. Dulles that, apart from the agreed announcement, each of our Governments should be free to make a further statement on the problem addressed specifically to its own public opinion, and that each side would make due allowances for the other in its treatment of its own difficulties. In accordance with this, the United States Government would agree to our making a reference to the Charter of the United Nations in publicity in London. Similarly, the United States Government may say something orally to the press about the clause in the draft Treaty providing for Japan to conclude bilateral peace treaties with other Allied states.

/5. I suggest

FJ1022/619 A

SECRET.

JAPANESE PEACE TREATY: PROPOSED ANNOUNCEMENT ON CHINA AND FORMOSA.

At their meeting on the 11th June, the Cabinet approved the draft for an agreed Anglo-American announcement which is attached as Draft A.

2. In subsequent discussion, Mr. Dulles suggested certain minor amendments to this draft, and further changes have been proposed by him since he got back (Washington telegram No. 1860, attached). The draft announcement incorporating these proposed changes is attached as Draft B.

[illegible]

3. The only difference in substance between the two drafts is right at the end, where ours says that the future of Formosa is still to be discussed in the light of the Charter of the United Nations, while the American draft leaves this point out.

4. It was proposed in discussion with Mr. Dulles that, apart from the agreed announcement, each of our Governments should be free to make a further statement on the problem addressed specifically to its own public opinion, and that each side would make due allowances for the other in its treatment of its own difficulties. In accordance with this, the United States Government would agree to our making a reference to the Charter of the United Nations in publicity in London. Similarly, the United States Government may say something orally to the press about the clause in the draft Treaty providing for Japan to conclude bilateral peace treaties with other Allied states.

5. I suggest

FJ1022/619 A

SECRET.

JAPANESE PEACE TREATY: PROPOSED ANNOUNCEMENT ON CHINA AND FORMOSA.

At their meeting on the 11th June, the Cabinet approved the draft for an agreed Anglo-American announcement which is attached as Draft A.

2. In subsequent discussion, Mr. Dulles suggested certain minor amendments to this draft, and further changes have been proposed by him since he got back (Washington telegram No. 1860, attached). The draft announcement incorporating these proposed changes is attached as Draft B.

FJ1022/566

3. The only difference in substance between the two drafts is right at the end, where ours says that the future of Formosa is still to be discussed in the light of the Charter of the United Nations, while the American draft leaves this point out.

4. It was proposed in discussion with Mr. Dulles that, apart from the agreed announcement, each of our Governments should be free to make a further statement on the problem addressed specifically to its own public opinion, and that each side would make due allowances for the other in its treatment of its own difficulties. In accordance with this, the United States Government would agree to our making a reference to the Charter of the United Nations in publicity in London. Similarly, the United States Government may say something orally to the press about the clause in the draft Treaty providing for Japan to conclude bilateral peace treaties with other Allied states.

/5. I suggest

FJ1022/6[illegible] A

SECRET.

JAPANESE PEACE TREATY: PROPOSED ANNOUNCEMENT ON CHINA AND FORMOSA.

At their meeting on the 11th June, the Cabinet approved the draft for an agreed Anglo-American announcement which is attached as Draft A.

2. In subsequent discussion, Mr. Dulles suggested certain minor amendments to this draft, and further changes have been proposed by him since he got back (Washington telegram No. 1[illegible], attached). The draft announcement [illegible] these proposed changes is attached as Draft B.

3. The only difference in substance between the two drafts is right at the end, where ours says that the future of Formosa is still to be discussed in the light of the Charter of the United Nations, while the American draft leaves this point out.

4. It was proposed in discussion with Mr. Dulles that, apart from the agreed announcement, each of our Governments should be free to make [illegible] state[illegible] [illegible] specifically to its own public opinion, and that each [illegible] would make due allowances for the [illegible] difficulties. In [illegible] Government would [illegible] to our [illegible] [illegible] Government [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

5. I[illegible]

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE
FO 371/92559
COPYRIGHT - NOT TO BE REPRODUCED PHOTOGRAPHICALLY WITHOUT PERMISSION

5. I suggest that we can agree to the United States proposals about the draft of the agreed announcement.

6. On the timing, however, it is most important that this should not be issued before Commonwealth countries have had time to consider the draft, and a telegram has accordingly been sent to Washington this morning making this point and asking for the proposed announcement to be delayed for, say, 24 ~~48~~ hours at any rate. This would also give us time to consider what else should be said to the press here apart from the text of the announcement.

7. We should, if possible, let Washington have our views on the draft itself on Monday morning.

8. Copies of this minute are being submitted to the Minister of State, Sir W. Strang and Sir E. Denning.

16th June, 1951.

5. I suggest that we can agree to the United States proposal about the draft of the agreed announcement.

6. On the timing, however, it is most important that this should not be issued before Commonwealth countries have had time to consider the draft, and a telegram has accordingly been sent to Washington this morning making this point and asking for the proposed announcement to be delayed for a day, 24 hours [illegible]. This would also give [illegible] to [illegible] the press here against [illegible] the announcement.

7. [illegible]

8. [illegible]

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE
FO 371/92559
COPYRIGHT - NOT TO BE REPRODUCED PHOTOGRAPHICALLY WITHOUT PERMISSION

5. I suggest that we can agree to the United States proposals about the draft of the agreed announcement.

6. On the timing, however, it is most important that this should not be issued before Commonwealth countries have had time to consider the draft, and a telegram has accordingly been sent to Washington this morning making this point and asking for the proposed announcement to be delayed for, say, 24 hours ~~at any rate.~~ This would also give us time to consider what else should be said to the Press here apart from the text of the announcement.

7. We should, if possible, let Washington have our views on the draft itself on Monday morning.

8. Copies of this minute are being submitted to the Minister of State, Sir W. Strang and Sir E. Dening.

C.H. Johnston.

16th June, 1951.

Subject to concurrence of M/S & P.M., I agree

HM 17/6

5. I suggest that we can agree to the United States proposals about the draft of the agreed announcement.

6. On the timing, however, it is most important that this should not be issued before Commonwealth countries have had time to consider the draft, and a telegram has accordingly been sent to Washington this morning making this point and asking for the proposed announcement to be delayed for, say, 24 hours ~~at any rate.~~ This would also give us time to consider what else should be said to the Press here apart from the text of the announcement.

7. We should, if possible, let Washington have our views on the draft itself on Monday morning.

8. Copies of this minute are being submitted to the Minister of State, Sir W. Strang and Sir E. Dening.

C.H. Johnston.

16th June, 1951.

Subject to concurrence of M/S & P.M., I agree

HM 17/6

FOREIGN OFFICE, S.W.1.,

13th June, 1951.

SECRET F510

93

At their meeting on the 11th June, the Cabinet approved the draft for an agreed Anglo-American announcement which is attached as Draft A.

In subsequent discussion, Mr. Dulles suggested certain minor amendments to this draft, and further changes have been proposed by him since he got back (Washington telegram No. 1860, attached). The draft announcement incorporating these proposed changes is attached as Draft B.

The only difference in substance between the two drafts is right at the end, where ours says that the future of Formosa is still to be discussed in the light of the Charter of the United Nations, while the American draft leaves this point out.

It was proposed in discussion with Mr. Dulles that, apart from the agreed announcement, each of our Governments should be free to make a further statement on the problem addressed specifically to its own public opinion, and that each side would make due allowances for the other in its treatment of its own difficulties. In accordance with this, the United States Government would agree to our making a reference to the Charter of the United Nations in publicity in London. Similarly, the

United/

D.H.F. Rickett, Esq., C.M.G.,
10 Downing Street.

FOREIGN OFFICE, S.W.1.,

18th June, 1951.

SECRET FJ1022/619

93

At their meeting on the 11th June, the Cabinet approved the draft for an agreed Anglo-American announcement which is attached as Draft A.

In subsequent discussion, Mr. Dulles suggested certain minor amendments to this draft, and further changes have been proposed by him since he got back (Washington telegram No. 1860, attached). The draft announcement incorporating these proposed changes is attached as Draft B.

The only difference in substance between the two drafts is right at the end, where ours says that the future of Formosa is still to be discussed in the light of the Charter of the United Nations, while the American draft leaves this point out.

It was proposed in discussion with Mr. Dulles that, apart from the agreed announcement, each of our Governments should be free to make a further statement on the problem addressed specifically to its own public opinion, and that each side would make due allowances for the other in its treatment of its own difficulties. In accordance with this, the United States Government would agree to our making a reference to the Charter of the United Nations in publicity in London. Similarly, the

United/

D.H.F. Rickett, Esq., C.M.G.,
10 Downing Street.

PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE
FO 371/92559
COPYRIGHT - NOT TO BE REPRODUCED PHOTOGRAPHICALLY WITHOUT PERMISSION

United States Government may say something orally to the press about the clause in the draft Treaty providing for Japan to conclude bilateral peace treaties with other Allied states.

The Foreign Secretary has said that subject to the Prime Minister's approval, he agrees to the United States proposals about the draft of the agreed announcement. Mr. Morrison thinks, however, that it is most important that this should not be issued before Commonwealth countries have had time to consider the draft, and a telegram has accordingly been sent to Washington ~~this morning~~ making this point and asking for the proposed announcement to be delayed for, say, 24 hours. This would also give us time to consider what else should be said to the press here apart from the text of the announcement.

We are anxious, if possible, to let Washington have our views on the draft itself this morning. Could you please, therefore, seek the Prime Minister's views on this matter as soon as possible and let me know by telephone if he has any objections.

(sgd) F. S. Leishman

United States Government may say something orally to the press about the clause in the draft Treaty providing for Japan to conclude bilateral peace treaties with other Allied states.

The Foreign Secretary has said that subject to the Prime Minister's approval, he agrees to the United States proposals about the draft of the agreed announcement. Mr. Morrison thinks, however, that it is most important that this should not be issued before Commonwealth countries have had time to consider the draft, and a telegram has accordingly been sent to Washington ~~this morning~~ making this point and asking for the proposed announcement to be delyed for, say, 24 hours. This would also give us time to consider what else should be said to the press here apart from the text of the announcement.

We are anxious, if possible, to let Washington have our views on the draft itself this morning. Could you please, therefore, seek the Prime Minister's views on this matter as soon as possible and let me know by telephone if he has any objections.

(sgd) F. S. Leighman

F

10, Downing Street,
Whitehall.

95

18th June, 1951.

1022/619 A.

Dear [illegible]

The Prime Minister has seen your letter to Rickett of this morning with a draft for an agreed Anglo-American announcement. He has commented:-

> "I don't like the omission by U.S.A. of the Reference to U.N.O. The fact that the Americans do not mention this will be taken by the world in general to mean that the U.S.A. intend to deal with Formosa as they please.
>
> C.R.A."

I submit a draft tel. as decided by the Cabinet this morning.

C.A. Johnston.

Now sec

V.A.S. 21.vi.

18.vi.

Yours sincerely

Denzil Hunt

F.J. Leishman, Esq.,
Foreign Office.

25/6.

F

PRIME MINISTER

10, Downing Street,
Whitehall.

95

18th June, 1951.

FJ1022/619 A

Dear Leishman

The Prime Minister has seen your letter to Rickett of this morning with a draft for an agreed Anglo-American announcement. He has commented:-

> "I don't like the omission by U.S.A. of the Reference to U.N.O. The fact that the Americans do not mention this will be taken by the world in general to mean that the U.S.A. intend to deal with Formosa as they please.
>
> C.R.A."

I submit a draft tel.

as decided by the Cabinet this morning.

C.H. Johnston.

Yours sincerely

David Hunt

Now see / . 21.vi 18.vi

F.J. Leishman, Esq.,
Foreign Office.

25/6.