Your telegram No. 2555: Japanese Peace Treaty.

We conveyed your views to Dulles this afternoon. He said that statement in agreed form would be issued as an official State Department release tomorrow and suggested 3.p.m. Washington time. This would be too late for local afternoon papers and in good time for London morning papers. Please telegraph immediately whether you agree.

2. Dulles said that although nothing will be added to official statement he must feel free to give confidential background guidance to press. If this were not done, there would be unrestrained speculation. Situation here already difficult had been made more so by statement by Chiang Kai-shek. In any case reference to possibility of conclusion by Japan of bi-lateral peace treaties with other states was in agreed text of Treaty and since this text would have to be made available to appropriate Congressional Committees early public discussion could hardly be avoided.

With reference to telephone conversation with Tomlinson, we confirm that there is no objection to postponement of agreed announcement as requested by State Department. As however text had already been telegraphed to Commonwealth Governments, and advance notification given to French and Netherlands Embassies, we ~~assume~~ think that postponement should be as short as possible to minimise risk of leakage.

2. Commonwealth Governments and French and Netherlands Embassies have been informed of postponement and requested to treat matter as secret meanwhile.
