CONFIDENTIAL

Addressed to Foreign Office telegram No. 1060 of 15th August, Repeated for information Saving to Washington

Japanese relations with Nationalist China.

There have been a number of reports circulating in Tokyo that the Japanese and Chinese Nationalists are in active negotiations regarding future relations. I therefore today raised the question with the Deputy Chief of the Diplomatic Section in the absence on leave of my United States colleague.

2. Mr. Bond told me that though he understood the Chinese Nationalists had in fact already prepared the draft of a separate peace treaty, the Japanese Government were being extremely wary and cautious, and that so far as he knew they were not in any kind of contact with the Government of Formosa on the subject. His own advice to the Japanese, if they raised the question, would be to do nothing for many months to come, and I told him that this was very similar to the advice which I was authorised to give if occasion arose.

3. As regards the establishment of an overseas agency in Formosa (see my telegram No. 38 Saving) Mr. Bond said that in principle the Japanese Government were now prepared to open one, but that nothing would be done at least until after the signature of the peace treaty. I said that the longer this question could be postponed the better.

Foreign Office please pass to Washington as my telegram No. 270 Saving.
