CONFIDENTIAL

Addressed to Washington telegram No.313 of 16th January.

Repeated for information to Tokyo - Priority.
and Saving to Singapore No.15.

Tokyo telegram No.72 [of January 16th] Sino-Japanese relations.

I am distressed by this development. I consider that Mr. Dulles should have given you a copy of Yoshida's letter of December 24th and that we should have been given a chance to discuss it at our meeting on January 10th.

2. I think that you will agree that its terms justify all our warnings to the Americans for it will certainly be read as an intention to recognise Chiang Kai-shek as much more than the occupier of Formosa. If I had understood that a document of this kind was going to be published at this time and in this way I would have spoken even more emphatically at our meeting. I am surprised that we had no advance notice at all from the American side of the intention to publish and that they left it to the Japanese to inform us.

3. In these changed circumstances I hesitate to instruct Sir R. Dening to deliver the message quoted in paragraph 4 of my telegram No.107 from Washington which is now out of date. I should be grateful for your advice on this. You will see that I have approved the line suggested by Dening in paragraph 3 of his telegram No.72.

4. You should speak to Acheson on these lines unless you see objection.
