My dear Doctor Dulles:

What, please, is the exact, legal, technical status of Formosa, now that the Treaty with Japan has been signed and is being implemented?

Up to the moment of signing, Formosa was of course a conquered territory of Japan's, and was occupied and dominated by Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist China government and forces only because Japan could not do anything about the matter.

But now, with Japan reconstituted as a sovereign nation, has Formosa become Chinese again, or has it become a U. N. trust territory, or what?
